DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendments and accompanying remarks filed 10/10/02 have been entered and carefully considered. Applicant's amendment is not found to patentably distinguish the claims over the prior art and Applicant's arguments are not found persuasive of patentability for reasons set forth herein below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

3. Claims 17-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention, as set forth in the previous action. Applicant argues that the phrase "unpolymerizable with radiation" has support because this property is inherent in the coatings of the instant invention. Applicant argues that the monomer acts as a plasticizer within the polymer; however, claim 17 is not so limited. Claim 17 merely requires a surface layer of two components: a polymer and a monomer. There is no mention of the relation of the two materials, i.e. if they are in a matrix. In fact, the claim is broad enough to read on a copolymer or a bilayer coating.

Moreover, there are two monomers known to self-initiate thermally without a photo initiator: styrene and polymethyl methacrylate. Also, the limitation "radiation" is open to all types of radiation such as ionization. Ionizing radiation generates free radicals in unsaturated monomers, which results in polymerization. Therefore, applicant's broad claim would not result in a coating, which is unpolymerizable with radiation.

4. Claims 17-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. This rejection is maintained for the reasons set forth above. The specification does not describe a method in which all water-dispersible polymers and polyfunctional acrylates are completely unpolymerizable with all forms of radiation.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 33-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 33 recites the limitation "the coating" in line 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

Art Unit: 1771

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 33 and 35-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mehta et al (5219641).

Mehta is concerned with the creation of a printable film comprising a substrate and a surface layer. Said layer consisting essentially of a water-dispersible polymer and an ethylenically unsaturated compound disposed in amounts anticipating applicants claimed amounts (claim 1 and example 1). Said surface layer does not contain a photo initiator (col. 2, lines 40-44). Applicant argues that the coating of Mehta is not able to plasticize the coating. However, this limitation is not give patentable weight because the word "able" means that the material is only capable or performing some operation. Applicant's invention only refers to the possibility of the coating being plasticized.

Mehta discloses the limitations of claims 35-38, as set forth in paragraph 5 of paper number 8.

9. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

10. Claim 34 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Mehta (5219641).

Mehta does not explicitly teach that the polymer forms a matrix and the unsaturated compound is included in said matrix. It is the examiner's position that this limitation is inherent in the coating of Mehta. Mehta refers to a blend of oligomer and monomer, which is radiation cured. Mehta's use of the word blend implies that the material is not polymerized, but only crosslinked. Mehta teaches the same composition subjected to the same radiation treatment; therefore, the resulting properties, such as the formation of a matrix, are inherent in the material.

The examiner also notes the matrix of claim 34 depends from claim 33 which allows for only 10% by weight polymer. This lower limit may not be sufficient to form a matrix wherein the remaining 90% of the material can be located inside.

11. Claims 39-41 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mehta et al (5219641) in view of Kuburaki et al (5047286).

Kuburaki teaches the limitations of claims 39-41, as set forth in paragraph 6 of paper number 8.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
